Project Description

The project consists of a senior loan to Bank of Alexandria S.A.E (AlexBank or the Bank) to target small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and sustainable energy finance (SEF). AlexBank is one of Egypt's leading private sector banks.

The project is expected to have the following development impact:

- (i) The project will support the Bank in meeting the FCY needs of its clientele base as well as expanding its SME outreach, thus supporting to improve access to finance for a chronically underserved market segment.
- (ii) The project will help the Bank to grow SEF, which is in line with the increased focus on reducing energy consumption in Egypt.

Additionality is clear since:

- (i) The project will provide AlexBank with long term FCY funding, which is not readily available in the market due to the current context of foreign exchange shortages that is constraining private sector activity.
- (ii) The project will strengthen IFC's relationship with ISP as the project will support meeting the funding requirement of its subsidiary in Egypt.
- (iii) IFC's investment will support the Bank in promoting SEF lending as part of its product offering. This will help improve the competitiveness of the clients benefiting from the SEF loans through supporting their capital investments targeting energy consumption reduction and cost savings.

Private Actors Description

Established in 1957 and a proud member of the Intesa San Paolo Group (ISP or the Group) since 2007, today AlexBank is one of Egypt's leading private sector banks.

As one of the largest private sector banks in terms of total assets and No.1 in retail assets market share, AlexBank also owns one of the largest private sector branch networks in the country, with a total of 170 branches located in every major Egyptian governorate and more than 5,000 employees.

As the only Italian commercial bank in the Middle East and North Africa region, AlexBank is proud to serve over 1.6 million customers, playing a vital role in Egypt's economic present and future.

Everyday AlexBank serves customers from all segments and business areas by providing value added financial products, services and solutions to corporate, SME, and retail customers. AlexBank is in the midst of an ambitious development plan to bring its branch design, infrastructure and service model in line with the global standards of the Group.
