Project Description

According to IFC website, the Yellow Door Energy has a portfolio of projects under development with major clients in UAE and Jordan, and is actively exploring opportunities to invest in similar projects in growth markets in the Middle East, Africa and South Asia regions. The Company is seeking equity funding from IFC and a group of other investors to implement these projects and execute its pipeline. The proposed project is expected to have the following development results:

1. Stakeholders impacts. The project will enhance affordability and serve towards ensuring cost efficiency for off-takers by introducing distributed generation systems.
2. Environmental impact. The project will contribute to reduction of GHG emissions
3. Enhancing Resilience. The project will contribute to increased resilience in the power market, especially in Jordan and growth market areas, where power generation is heavily dependent on fossil fuel.
4. Enhancing competitiveness. The Project will help demonstrate the viability of distributed renewable energy generation as a disruptive technology in growth markets

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IFC

The Compliance Advisor Ombudsman (CAO) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an IFC or MIGA- financed project. If you submit a complaint to the CAO, they may assist you in resolving a dispute with the company and/or investigate to assess whether the IFC is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. If you want to submit a complaint electronically, you can email the CAO at CAO@worldbankgroup.org. You can learn more about the CAO and how to file a complaint at <http://www.cao-ombudsman.org/>
