Project Description

According to IFC website, IFC is seeking to invest in Voyager to support the growth of its financial service unit, Paymaya, which operates a mobile money platform, domestic remittance network, and merchant acquiring business in the Philippines.

People Affected By This Project

- i. Access to and Usage of Transaction Accounts: The project will support the roll-out of a mobile wallet that allows users to carry out financial transactions, including domestic remittances, bill payment, airtime load, etc., on their phones in a cost efficient and convenient manner, thereby deepening financial access for the population
- ii. Integration - IFC anticipates that the project will result in significant market integration by linking mobile wallet users to a growing array of digital financial and non-financial services, including e-commerce. Voyager's open-loop approach allows for interoperability of transactions and provides access to both traditional and digital accounts, integrating its users into the digital economy.
- iii. Competitiveness - As a leading innovator in the market, Voyager will foster competitiveness in the financial sector by triggering changes in the market through the use of its low-cost, open-loop payment platform, which will push its competitors to innovate and offer new products and services at lower costs.
