Project Description

According to the Bank's website, this project finances the construction of a cement plant approximately 25km north of Jizzakh City in Uzbekistan. Additional infrastructure for the project requires a 3km access road, 36km power transmission line, and 17km gas pipeline. The project site is adjacent to an existing railway and to a water canal which delivers water from Syr Darya River to the site and to Aydar Lake.

The project is categorised A for environmental risk because of the associated risks, including: (i) energy efficiency and greenhouse gas emissions, (ii) water availability and efficiency, (iii) point source emissions controls for particulate matters and nitrogen oxide and potential heavy metals from the cement production, (iv) noise and dust control for quarry operations, (vi) potential loss of habitat due to large scale quarry operations, (vii) land acquisition and forced resettlement.
