People Affected By This Project

IFC anticipates that the Project will increase access to climate finance, including energy efficiency and green building projects that would enable businesses to improve their environmental footprint. The Project is expected to contribute to GHGs reduction and improve air quality by providing financing for green buildings and green projects.

Beyond the project-level impact, IFC anticipates that the project will promote competitiveness in the financial and real estate markets. In addition, given the moderately developed state of the climate finance market in Peru, IFC's engagement will build capacity and set standards, using tools to assess eligibility and track environmental impact.
