Early Warning System Project Analysis

The use of proceeds will be required to exclude higher risk activities that may include a) involuntary resettlement, b) risk of adverse impacts on Indigenous Peoples, c) significant risks to or impacts on the environment, community health and safety, biodiversity, cultural heritage, or d) significant occupational health and safety risks. Hence, the E&S risk of the proposed project is medium, and the project is categorized as FI-2 according to IFC's Policy on Environmental and Social Sustainability.

The applicable performance requirements will be i) the IFC- FI Exclusion List; ii) the relevant national E&S laws and regulations; and iii) the IFC Performance Standards. The project will not support any coal-related activities.

At the group level, Rabobank has an existing sustainability policy, which is applied globally and includes a comprehensive exclusion list and set of core policies on environment, labour standards and human rights; theme and sector policies on land, indigenous people, biodiversity, animal welfare, forestry, livestock farming, fisheries, palm oil etc., (collectively 'sustainability policies'). Rabobank is also signatory to the Equator Principles. Accordingly, all project finance transactions are evaluated by external E&S consultants hired by the sub-borrowers and further reviewed by external consultants hired by Rabobank where Equator Principles apply. Corporate finance transactions are required to follow the sustainability policies. Rabobank has sustainability department which is involved in review of project and corporate loans and is empowered to reject proposals which do not meet its internal policies. This existing E&S risk review process and structure include screening, project categorization, due-diligence including additional expert review if needed, monitoring of the portfolio and use of external consultants for project finance due-diligence.

The existing policy and procedures are aligned with the project's applicable performance E&S requirements and will be applied to the project as well. Rabobank also has an external communications mechanism to receive concerns related to projects financed by Rabobank. Rabobank HR policies and practices are generally in line with IFC PS-2 requirements. Relevant business staff at CRUA MB will be required to maintain the E&S review structure led by sustainability team at Rabobank group level that will allow to screen out higher risk transactions, and provide annual E&S report related to the portfolio supported by this IFC project.

People Affected By This Project
