Project Description

According to IFC, the proposed investment comprises upto INR3,750million (US$50 million equivalent) investment in Tata Cleantech Capital Limited (TCCL or the Company) through subscription of secured non-convertible debentures (NCDs) to be issued by the Company. The proceeds of the IFC investment will be primarily used to finance wind and solar projects and to a limited extent sectors such as energy efficiency, e-mobility, green-warehousing and water. Setup in 2011, TCCL is registered with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) as a Systemically Important Non-Deposit Accepting Non-Banking Financial Infrastructure Finance Company (NBFC-IFC), engaged in the business of providing finance and advisory services for projects in renewable energy, energy efficiency, waste management, water management and cash flow-based infrastructure finance.

The sustainability linked bond will be amongst the first few private sector led issuances by a financial institution in India and the wider Asia region.

Some of these projects may be in early stages of development, i.e., where construction is involved, while others will be operational assets. Most of the projects are expected to be medium risk in nature with very few in high-risk category (typically large capacity renewable energy projects). Overall, the E&S risk of the proposed investment is medium, and the project is categorized as FI-2 in accordance with IFC's Environmental and Social Sustainability Policy.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

The IFC categorized the project risk as 'FI-2'.

People Affected By This Project

Potential E&S risks arise from the construction and operation phase of the projects. This includes risk and impacts related to Occupational Health & Safety (OHS), Labor and working conditions including that of third-party workers and workers engaged in primary supply chain, impact on avifauna, and community grievances. In some early-stage projects, there may be issues related to land, indigenous peoples, and biodiversity depending on location of the projects. Most of these risks and impacts can be identified and managed through adequate due-diligence, implementation of management plans and portfolio monitoring. The project will not support coal-related activities and will not finance any higher risk business activities that may include a) involuntary resettlement, b) risk of adverse impacts on indigenous peoples, c) significant risks to or impacts on the environment, community health and safety, biodiversity, cultural heritage d) significant occupational health and safety risks. The Company will publicly disclose information on Category A and other qualifying climate related sub-projects that will be supported by this IFC investment. The applicable performance requirements for this project will be i) the Exclusion List; ii) the host country laws and regulations; and iii) the IFC Performance Standards.
