Project Description

According to IFC project page, the proposed investment is an equity investment in Vay Network Services Private Limited (“Vayana” or the “Company”). The Company is a technology-enabled supply chain finance platform that connects micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) and corporates with banks and other financial institutions for payables and receivables financing, primarily in India. Vayana is also one of India’s largest Goods & Service Tax (GST) Suvidha providers, offering GST, E-Way Bill and E-Invoice pass-through API services and other related services.

ANTICIPATED IMPACT

IFC anticipates that the Project will promote improved access to affordable working capital finance for suppliers and distributors, including MSMEs, in India. The Project will support the growth of Vayana’s specialized technology platform to deliver supply chain financing solutions. IFC also anticipates that the Project will promote integration in the supply chain financing sector by establishing a key market platform which integrates financing, tax and transaction data solutions for MSMEs in India.

IFC's ROLE

IFC has extensive experience in the areas of MSME, supply chain and trade finance, coupled with a strong track record working with fintech players across emerging markets, including an extensive portfolio in digital lenders and supply chain finance platforms. IFC will provide non-financial additionality in the form of knowledge and capacity building by sharing its unique emerging markets sector expertise with Vayana.
