Project Description

The proposed project consists of a Synthetic Risk Transfer Transaction in which IFC will provide to BNP Paribas S.A. an unfunded guarantee on credit losses up to US$50 million of the mezzanine tranche of a US$1 billion revolving reference portfolio from the Bank's eligible trade finance and corporate loan-related credit exposures. This will be IFC's first SRT with BNP Paribas and BNP Paribas first SRT covering Emerging Markets assets. The proposed project will enable BNP Paribas to reduce the regulatory risk weights attached to its EM portfolio, thereby freeing up capital which the Bank will deploy to provide more emerging markets related trade finance.

The project will support select portfolio transactions of BNP Paribas, primarily in trade finance, with up to 30% in corporate finance. Although BNP Paribas has a new oil and gas sector policy, it still funds fossil gas projects.

Bank disclosure on financial intermediary sub-projects are often limited. Although the bank disclosures did not categorize this as an energy project, civil society research has linked this project with oil and gas. Therefore, for purposes of this snapshot and other research, the Early Warning System team has categorized this project as an "Energy" project.
