Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the proposed Project comprises an equity investment of up to US$150 million in Holding Davivienda Internacional S.A. (HDI), a subsidiary of Banco Davivienda S.A. (Davivienda, the Bank). HDI oversees Davivienda's banking, insurance and brokerage operations in Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, and Panama (the Countries). The capital raised through this investment will be used to complete the M&A transaction in which the Bank is acquiring Bank of Nova Scotia (Scotiabank)'s operations in Costa Rica and Panama, through a share exchange, thereby strengthening its presence in Central America. Through IFC's participation in HDI, Davivienda expects to consolidate its sustainable finance and insurance strategy in Central America through increased support to small and medium enterprises (SMEs), women-owned SMEs (WSMEs), and climate finance sub-projects, including those focused on climate adaptation.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

The Project consists of an equity investment in the Company. The portfolio of the Company is exposed to high to medium E&S risk sectors including services, commerce, financial services, energy, industry, agribusinesses and construction. The key E&S risks and impacts derive from the subsidiaries' capacity to identify, assess, and manage risks and impacts associated with the portfolio. These risks typically include occupational health and safety issues, labor and working conditions, child and forced labor, waste and wastewater management, land tenure, resource efficiency and pollution prevention, and impacts to vulnerable communities and biodiversity. The project has therefore been categorized as FI-1 according to the IFC's Sustainability Framework.
