Project Description

According to the IFC, the proposed project consists of a sustainable Diversified Payments Rights (“DPR”) notes issuance of up to US$200 million by Banco G&T Continental (“GTC”), an IFC client since 2008, in Guatemala. The investment will be executed under the Bank’s existing DPR program and through a Special Purpose Corporation (Titularizadora Centro Americana de DPRs or the “SPC”). The sustainable notes will be collateralized by US-denominated DPRs originated by GTC and will have a tenor of 7 years, with a 2-year grace period. The use of proceeds of the investment is to support GTC’s loan portfolio growth in:

- (i) climate-related assets, including green buildings and energy-efficiency sub-projects;
- (ii) Small and Medium Enterprises (“SMEs”) in accordance with IFC’s definition and applicable local regulation; and
- (iii) low-income housing, with a specific carve out to support women home ownership. The aforementioned use of proceeds will comply with applicable Guatemalan Regulations, including E&S requirements.

The project will support SMEs, mortgage housing for women and other individuals, and Climate Smart lending consisting of green buildings, energy and water efficiency, and solar power sub-projects in urban areas.

Investment Description

- International Finance Corporation (IFC)

As stated by the IFC, the proposed transaction consists of a 7-year (2-year grace period) senior loan for IFC's own account of up to US$200 million to the SPC, serviced by GTC. The SPC owns any existing and future-generated Diversified Payment Rights immediately upon their generation. The collections of such DPRs are expected to be the only repayment source of IFC's investment. The funds of the Project will enable GTC to continue its strategy implementation to grow a stronger presence in the SME segment, residential mortgages, and climate lending.

Financial Intermediary

Financial Intermediary: A commercial bank or financial institution that receives funds from a development bank. A financial intermediary then lends these funds to their clients (private actors) in the form of loans, bonds, guarantees and equity shares. Financial intermediaries include insurance, pension and equity funds. The direct financial relationship is between the development bank and the financial intermediary.

Private Actors Description

As stated by the IFC, GTC was established in 2001, as a result of a merger between Banco Granai & Townson and Banco Continental. Based in Guatemala, the Bank is the third largest player in the banking sector. It operates as a universal bank with a focus on the large corporate segment and is a strong player in the remittance business. GTC supports its operations through a network of agencies and service points that provide coverage across the country.

The Group is composed of the following entities: Banco G&T Continental, S.A.; Financiera G&T Continental, S.A.; Casa de Bolsa G&T Continental, S.A.; Asesoria en Valores, S.A.; and Seguros G&T, S.A.

GTC Investments LTD (based in Cayman Islands) has a direct ownership of 99.9% in the Bank and all the subsidiaries, with most beneficial shareholders being leading, well-reputed Guatemalan business groups and families, active in various sectors of the economy.
