Project Description

As stated on the project disclosure page, IFC's proposed investment consists of up to US$30 million in AMERRA Natural Capital Credit Fund, LP, which will be managed by AMERRA Capital Management, LLC. The Fund will provide senior secured private credit to predominantly Brazilian food and agribusiness companies.

The financing is expected to support projects that improve productivity, create jobs, and increase resilience in the use of soil, water, and biomass.

The Project is expected to increase access to tailored climate finance for mid-tier agribusiness companies in Brazil. The Fund will provide USD-denominated financing with transaction-specific structures and sustainability-linked incentives. Beyond the Project, the Fund is expected to demonstrate the potential for private credit to provide tailored financing, capacity building, and pricing incentives linked to sustainability outcomes for mid-tier agricultural producers, with potential replication in the region.

The Fund will make investments mainly in Brazil, with potential investments in other countries in Latin America.

Investment Description

- International Finance Corporation (IFC)

As stated on the project disclosure page, IFC's proposed investment consists of up to US$30 million for its own account, with the Fund targeting a size of approximately US$200 million.

Financial Intermediary

Financial Intermediary: A commercial bank or financial institution that receives funds from a development bank. A financial intermediary then lends these funds to their clients (private actors) in the form of loans, bonds, guarantees and equity shares. Financial intermediaries include insurance, pension and equity funds. The direct financial relationship is between the development bank and the financial intermediary.
