Project Description

According to the bank document, ASEAN Financial Innovation Network ("AFIN") will create and operate a market platform and technical environment that enables FinTechs to scale their businesses regionally, helping Financial Institutions ("FIs") benefit from more competition and a robust ecosystem of FinTech solutions.

At the core of AFIN will be a FinTech marketplace and Sandbox (e.g. systems and user testing) environment for FIs to access, develop, and design new or improved financial products/services. AFIN will set up this platform, establish legal and commercial service relationships with FinTechs and FIs, and help create a dynamic community of FIs, FinTechs, developers, and regulators that accelerate regional innovation and adoption.

This project aims to support the creation of a regulator-overseen, cross-border, open-architecture platform for collaboration and experimentation between regulated FIs and FinTechs. By helping the FIs on extensive adoption of Digital Financial Services ("DFS") with the beneficiaries of MSMEs and individuals are aligned with IFC's strategic priorities, the project will support the World Bank Group twin goals in reducing poverty and achieving inclusive growth.
