Project Description

According to the bank's website, "To enhanced women’s participation in the private sector labor force by the Women's Employment Project is working with large companies to demonstrate the business case for investing in women as employees and to improve their ability to recruit, retain, and promote women and men equally. Priority sectors include Banking, Finance & Insurance, Garments and Apparel, Tourism, and Information and Communications Technology. The work consists of research to understand key constraints women face in accessing waged employment, creating space to share experience, developing targeted solutions to respond to those constraints, delivering direct advisory support to Sri Lankan businesses to make the most of their female talent, and addressing regulatory and policy constraints to women’s full participation in the workforce."

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IFC/MIGA

The Compliance Advisor Ombudsman (CAO) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by an IFC or MIGA- financed project. If you submit a complaint to the CAO, they may assist you in resolving a dispute with the company and/or investigate to assess whether the IFC is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. If you want to submit a complaint electronically, you can email the CAO at CAO@worldbankgroup.org You can learn more about the CAO and how to file a complaint at http://www.cao-ombudsman.org
