Project Description

As stated by the IFC, the project will assist agCelerant in strengthening its capacity and to improve partnership with bank partner such as BoA to ultimately scale SHF financing. IFC will focus on areas such as the preparation of the partnership between agCelerant & BoA, support for the acquisition of new farmers and agri-profiling of their crops, support for the deployment and management of the network of agri-agents, support for strengthening the business model and action plan, and strategic support on risk management and development of scoring model.

The objective of this project is to support the development of a new type of partnership between agCelerant -agri-platform (agtech) and BOA, partner bank, to help bridge the significant financing gap for farmers in Senegal. Under such future partnership, the bank would be able to leverage valuable data from agCelerant on their profiled farmers and provide them with loans. Improved banking services for SHFs will drive greater financial inclusion and increased financing for SHFs and will lead to a path for greater food security.

Investment Description

- International Finance Corporation (IFC)

Financial Intermediary

Financial Intermediary: A commercial bank or financial institution that receives funds from a development bank. A financial intermediary then lends these funds to their clients (private actors) in the form of loans, bonds, guarantees and equity shares. Financial intermediaries include insurance, pension and equity funds. The direct financial relationship is between the development bank and the financial intermediary.
