Project Description

According to the Inter-American Development Bank Invest (IDB Invest), formerly the Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC), El Siglo is dedicated to planting, harvesting and commercializing bananas and plantains. Currently, El Siglo has 600 hectares of banana plantation and 200 hectares of plantain plantation, located on farms equipped with irrigation systems, aerial cable systems to transfer the fruit to the packing plants and four fruit packing plants. El Siglo's production is mainly sold to Compañía Bananera Independiente S.A. ("Cobigua"), under the Chiquita brand, through long-term agreements. The objective of this operation is to finance the cultivation of 475 hectares of bananas to be sold to Cobigua through a long-term purchase agreement.

Both of the company's plantations are located in an area of Guatemala dedicated to intensive, large-scale agriculture – primarily consisting of the cultivation of sugar cane, banana and plantain. The land for this project has a long history of previous agricultural uses, having been farmed by El Siglo's owners successively for cotton, grains, corn, and most recently sugarcane. The plantation is surrounded on all sides by agricultural land without any abutting residences.

According to the IIC Environmental and Social Sustainability Policy, this is a Category B project: potential environmental and social risks and impacts are limited to the project site, largely reversible, and can be mitigated via measures that are readily available and feasible to implement in the context of the operation.

Investment Description

- IDB Invest (IDBI)

The investment is a US$5 million loan. The total project cost is US$10,450 million, excluding the cost of land, since the latter will lease to a related company.
