Project Description

According to the World Bank, the objective of the Irrigation and Land Market Development Project for Georgia is to: (i) improve delivery of irrigation and drainage services in selected areas and (ii) develop improved policies and procedures as a basis for a national program of land registration. There are three components to the project, the first component being irrigation and drainage improvement. This component includes two sub-components: (i) irrigation and drainage rehabilitation and modernization, and (ii) strengthening of irrigation and drainage institutions. The implementing agency for the component will be the MOA through the MOA Project Planning and Monitoring Division. The second component is the land market development. The component will finance the pilot phase of a land registration program in order to redefine and test the policies and procedures for registration of agricultural land that will allow the majority of existing land ownership rights to be registered (regularization). The pilot will inform the design of a national land registration program (which is not funded under the project). Finally, the third component is the project management.
