Project Description

The objective of the Program for Climate Resilience: TA for the Risk Resiliency and Sustainability Program Project is to increase the capacity of the Government of the Philippines to prepare the Risk Resiliency and Sustainability Program and enhance readiness for initiating its implementation. The grant's activities will support the Government's key adaptation priorities and means of implementation articulated in the Philippines' (intended) Nationally Determined Contribution under the Paris Agreement. These include: (1) the rolling-out of science-based climate and disaster risk and vulnerability assessment process as the basis for mainstreaming climate and disaster risks reduction in development plans, programs and projects; (2) the development of climate and disaster-resilient ecosystem(s); (3) the enhancement of climate and disaster-resilience of key sectors; (4) the systematic transition to a climate and disaster-resilient social and economic growth; (5) research and development on climate change, extremes and impacts for improved risk assessment and management; and (6) enhancing the use of the Government's annual budgeting system for improved climate planning.

Key Results

The proposed PDO indicators are: An operational framework for a national climate adaptation and resilience investment program to leverage investments in key vulnerable landscapes is developed through consultation. Government institutions are provided with capacity and coordination strengthening for responding to climate risks through risk-informed identification, planning, financing, execution, monitoring and reporting of adaptation and resilience investment.
