Project Description

The objective of the Public Service Reform and Rejuvenation Project for Congo, Democratic Republic of is to improve human resource management capacity of selected ministries and rejuvenate their workforce. The AF is an International Development Association (IDA) grant to scale up assistance to help the public service of the DRC move toward a better performing and rejuvenated system by: (a) supporting public service reform in selected ministries and agencies; (b) facilitating the retirement of civil servants who have passed the legally defined retirement age; (c) building the capacity of restructured ministries and agencies; and (d) expanding such organizational reforms to the provincial level in response to new demand that stems from a new territorial division, called ‘division’ (découpage).
