Project Description

According to the bank document, the project aims to "support the reform of Indonesia’s investment and trade policies in support of economic recovery and transformation. It is a stand-alone IBRD loan to the Republic of Indonesia aiming to support the Government of Indonesia in

(i) attracting investments, particularly foreign direct investment (FDI); and

(ii) reforming trade policy to support competitiveness and economic recovery. The operation supports the most ambitious reform program to attract investments and liberalize trade that Indonesia has undertaken in decades.

This has the potential to help the urgently needed transformation of the economy towards higher productivity, higher value-added sectors and economic recovery from the COVID-19 shock".
