Project Description

The project development objective is to improve biodiversity conservation in biodiversity hotspots located in four Caribbean countries (Dominican Republic and Antigua and Barbuda with adaptive replication in Jamaica and Saint Lucia) through collaborative social accountability mechanisms between governments, citizens and civil society organizations (CSOs).

The project will employ a threefold approach for achieving the PDO:

- First, developing, testing, adjusting and iterating sustainable collaborative social accountability mechanisms and processes for protecting biodiversity hotspots;
- Second, developing and iterating a capacity development model to increase civil society-government capacities for joint monitoring and problem-solving; and,
- Third, producing adaptive learning on the use of collaborative social accountability for biodiversity conservation.

At the local level, the project will employ inclusive participation methods focused on engaging and empowering poor and marginalized populations, especially women, youth, the disabled and ethnic minorities, that are particularly vulnerable to the deleterious impact of biodiversity degradation and climate change resilience.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

To submit an information request for project information, you will have to create an account to access the Access to Information request form. You can learn more about this process at: <https://www.worldbank.org/en/access-to-information/request-submission>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE WORLD BANK

The World Bank Inspection Panel is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by a World Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Inspection Panel, they may investigate to assess whether the World Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can contact the Inspection Panel or submit a complaint by emailing ipanel@worldbank.org. Information on how to file a complaint and a complaint request form are available at: <https://www.inspectionpanel.org/how-to-file-complaint>
