Early Warning System Project Analysis

The environmental risks are designated moderate rating at this stage, the anticipated risks and impacts are anticipated to be limited, localized, site specific, and temporary. The anticipated risks and impacts are mainly related to (i) generation of e-wastes connected to ICT upgrades for selected learning facilities and Labour Management Information System (LMIS); and (ii) generation of noise, dust, minor hydrocarbon spills, building construction wastes (hazardous and non-hazardous), pollutants such as stormwater and sediment discharges as well as health and safety risks from civil works activities for rehabilitation and new building construction for selected training facilities and job centers. There will not be any land acquisition, so associated civil works (building renovation/rehabilitation and new building constructions) will be limited within existing premises of beneficiary institutions.

The social risk associated with the project is assessed as moderate. Proposed project works include both upgrading of learning facilities and new construction, all within the existing TVET colleges and premises, and thus land acquisition will not be required. The RSA found that based on potential construction and rehabilitation/ renovation works, moderate potential risks and impacts include: a) Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) risks for workers, in particular lack of wearing appropriate PPE and risks of working at heights; b) small-scale labor influx; c) risks of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (SEA), Sexual Harassment (SH) and Gender Based Violence (GBV), both during construction and operations of supported TVET facilities (dormitories, training, etc.), though this risk is assessed as low; d) risks of engaging child or forced labor, both for contractors and the supply chain (such as in brick kilns), though based on experience in other projects this is also assessed as low. In addition, the Rapid Social Assessment (RSA) identified a f) a risk of discrimination and exclusion of disadvantaged/ vulnerable groups, including Indigenous peoples and peoples with disabilities in all project activities, not just rehabilitation works.
