Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the Objective of the Project in the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) is to strengthen early warning systems, climate resilient investments in shoreline protection, and to provide immediate and effective response to an Eligible Crisis or Emergency.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

Short term impacts during construction include the burden on the Ebeye islet infrastructure to cope with an influx of workers and protecting the vulnerable from exploitation.

Small scale coastal protection works are likely to have minor cumulative impacts in addition to the existing threats to the environment described above. Larger scale coastal protection works may have wider geographical impacts.

There are risks that coastal protection works create unintended consequences such as change the baseline erosion and deposition patterns. This is mitigated through the modelling and detailed design work, but there is a residual risk that erosion continues to be an issue in the long term.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

To submit an information request for project information, you will have to create an account to access the Access to Information request form. You can learn more about this process at: <https://www.worldbank.org/en/access-to-information/request-submission>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE WORLD BANK

The World Bank Inspection Panel is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by a World Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Inspection Panel, they may investigate to assess whether the World Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can contact the Inspection Panel or submit a complaint by emailing ipanel@worldbank.org. Information on how to file a complaint and a complaint request form are available at: <https://www.inspectionpanel.org/how-to-file-complaint>
