Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the project development objectives are to enhance gas supply security by facilitating access to cost-effective financing, and strengthen the institutional capacity of sector agencies.

This operation would utilize IDA guarantee instrument to mobilize private sector capital in the natural gas sector, while also working in partnership with other development institutions. The use of a World Bank IDA guarantee would increase the availability of liquidity in a cost-effective manner, improve the creditworthiness of Petrobangla, and support its energy security. The proposed operation would also provide technical assistance to the sector in partnership with other development partners, in preparation for broader sector reforms to improve the sustainability of the energy sector.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

The environmental risk rating is proposed as “Moderate”. This is based on the nature of operational activities; the project is a guarantee that facilitates liquidity to support purchase of LNG and TA to help with institutional strengthening. No physical works will occur under the project. However, the project has indirect environmental and social risks associated with the suppliers’ capacity to transport, handle and store LNG. The E&S risks associated with transportation, handling and storage of LNG include occupational health and safety (OHS) and community health and safety risks (including the potential for spills or accidents), air emissions and noise.

The social risk of this operation is assessed to be “Moderate.” The project will not involve any construction or any physical facilities enhancement. Hence the project will not require any land acquisition and is not going to cause any economic or physical displacement.
