Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the objective of this project is to strengthen institutional capacity and systems for climate smart agriculture, repurposing fertilizer subsidy program, diversification, and increased export development and growth as envisioned by PSAT.

The Project would provide technical assistance and capacity building to:

- (a) Improve Efficiency of Rice-Based Farming Systems and Enhancing Climate Resilience;
- (b) Enhance Crop Diversification and Regional Exports through Intensification of High-Value Cropping;
- (c) support institutional Strengthening in Support of the Agrifood Transformation Agenda Key results will be measured in terms of: (i) Number of learning hubs strengthened with digital Climate Smart Agriculture (CSA) package; (ii) Special Order or similar instrument issued to enable subsidized fertilizer to be issued through the use of IMC card; (iii) Number of facilitated and operational linkages between vegetable FCAs and institutional buyers; and (iv) Establishment of a Trade Facilitation window for streamlining export procedures and growth.

Early Warning System Project Analysis

Environmental and social risk is rated moderate. It is expected to deliver positive E&S outcomes by promoting climate-resilient agriculture, efficient input use, and adoption of Climate-Smart Agriculture (CSA) technologies, which will help reduce emissions, improve soil health, and boost food security. Technical assistance (TA) supports equity by enhancing opportunities for women, Indigenous Peoples, and farmers with disabilities, especially in high-poverty areas. SEA/SH risk is low due to strong DA mechanisms and absence of civil works.
