Project Description

According to the Bank's website, the PDO is to increase the number of graduates with market-relevant skills and strengthen skills development systems for better and more inclusive jobs in priority sectors. This proposed project takes a comprehensive, multisectoral approach to addressing skills development in the country. By tackling key barriers to quality, market-relevant training, the project seeks to modernize and professionalize curricula, strengthen infrastructure, and build meaningful partnerships with the private sector. It goes beyond traditional TVET and professional training to include higher education and informal apprenticeship systems, ensuring that no sector is left behind. To build a high-value-added, inclusive economy, there is a need to develop a diverse range of skills across the entire spectrum, engaging all key stakeholders, including those currently outside the system.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE WORLD BANK

The World Bank Inspection Panel is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by a World Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Inspection Panel, they may investigate to assess whether the World Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can contact the Inspection Panel or submit a complaint by emailing ipanel@worldbank.org. Information on how to file a complaint and a complaint request form are available at: <https://www.inspectionpanel.org/how-to-file-complaint>
