Project Description

According to bank's website, the proposed project aims to support the Government of Zimbabwe in implementing a whole-of-government approach to girls' empowerment, leveraging strengthened social protection systems. The intervention will build on the Basic Education Assistance Module (BEAM)--the country's largest social protection program, fully government-funded--and will finance the implementation of a comprehensive BEAM module targeting adolescent girls at risk of dropping out of school. In addition to providing financial support to keep girls in school, the program will support services that address key drivers of school dropout, including adolescent pregnancy, child marriage and regressive gender norms. The operation includes activities to strengthen systems for targeting, service delivery, and monitoring and evaluation of these interventions.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

To submit an information request for project information, you will have to create an account to access the Access to Information request form. You can learn more about this process at: <https://www.worldbank.org/en/access-to-information/request-submission>

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF THE WORLD BANK

The World Bank Inspection Panel is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who believe they are likely to be, or have been, adversely affected by a World Bank-financed project. If you submit a complaint to the Inspection Panel, they may investigate to assess whether the World Bank is following its own policies and procedures for preventing harm to people or the environment. You can contact the Inspection Panel or submit a complaint by emailing ipanel@worldbank.org. Information on how to file a complaint and a complaint request form are available at: <https://www.inspectionpanel.org/how-to-file-complaint>
