Too Good to Waste: Structuring the Quito Environmental Complex with private sector participation -- a key strategy to mitigate methane emissions and advance toward a circular economy

Project Description

According to the IADB, the objective is to support the beneficiary in developing the structuring of the private initiative under the Public-Private Partnership ("PPP") modality for the Quito Environmental Complex Project, which consists of the "Design, financing, construction, operation, and maintenance of infrastructure for the provision of the public service of comprehensive management of non-hazardous solid waste and residues in its phases of collection, transfer, treatment, recovery, valorization, and final disposal." The project aims to accelerate the transformation from linear solid waste management to a circular economy, reducing environmental impacts and methane emissions caused by this activity.

ACCOUNTABILITY MECHANISM OF IADB

The Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism (MICI) is the independent complaint mechanism and fact-finding body for people who have been or are likely to be adversely affected by an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) or Inter-American Investment Corporation (IIC)-funded project. If you submit a complaint to MICI, they may assist you in addressing the problems you raised through a dispute-resolution process with those implementing the project and/or through an investigation to assess whether the IDB or IIC is following its own policies for preventing or mitigating harm to people or the environment. You can submit a complaint by sending an email to MICI@iadb.org. You can learn more about the MICI and how to file a complaint at http://www.iadb.org/en/mici/mici,1752.html (in English) or http://www.iadb.org/es/mici/mici,1752.html (Spanish).
