Project Description

According to the project document, the proposed project aims to support advanced skills and knowledge for sustainable economic growth in Indonesia by upgrading three public universities in Sumatra and one public university in Bandung, West Java, as the first phase of higher-education reform.

Furthermore, the project will support the construction of new facilities that incorporate green-building and climate-proofing design features and strengthen staff capacity at the universities and support demand-driven quality education and research.

It will integrate new technologies in teaching programs, strengthen technical and vocational teacher education, and help the government develop a medium-term higher-education investment plan.
