Financial Intermediary

Financial Intermediary: A commercial bank or financial institution that receives funds from a development bank. A financial intermediary then lends these funds to their clients (private actors) in the form of loans, bonds, guarantees and equity shares. Financial intermediaries include insurance, pension and equity funds. The direct financial relationship is between the development bank and the financial intermediary.

Private Actors Description

According to MIGA, National Bank of Canada (BNC) is one of the largest and systemically important Canadian financial institutions with total assets equivalent of US$ 261 billion as of 2020. Its subsidiary bank, ABA, outside of Canada is required to maintain reserves at the central bank of Cambodia, based on its volume of customer deposits. Mandatory reserves contribute to BNC's overall risk-weighted assets (RWA) at the consolidated level, resulting in less headroom for other assets at a given level of capital.
