People Affected By This Project

- i) Project outcome: The most significant, expected Project-level outcome is increased access to climate mitigation finance, such as renewable energy, energy efficiency, and other green financing in the Fund's operational regions of ECA and MENA. The Project will also result in reducing carbon emissions and energy savings in energy intensive and highly polluted regions.
- ii) Market creation: IFC anticipates that the Project will enhance integration among public and private investors in the green financing segment by demonstrating to the wider investor community that climate mitigation investments represent an attractive risk-reward profile for all parties. IFC also anticipates that the investment will promote greater market sustainability through climate finance capacity building in ECA and MENA.
